

Leaders In Each District Change Today Like a Kona The Ballots Pour In Contest

ONE YEAR SUBSCRIPTION WOULD PLACE MANY AT HEAD OF LIST

No Combinations Allowed In This Contest; Votes Are Not Transferable

Are you tired of the struggle you have been making the past few days? Does it seem folly to keep on?

Have you decided that the game is not worth the candle?

Well, before you give up your ideal or relinquish your hope, stop and think the matter over again.

Take a fresh start in your contest work. Believe in a loving guidance. Ask your friends for votes and, above all things, believe in yourself.

The above lines do in no way apply to the contestants in the Bulletin popular voting contest, but the following verses may help to encourage some of the young women who feel that they have no chance to win:

The Discouraged
"If all the end of this continuous striving

Were simply to attain,

How poor would seem the planning and contriving.

The endless urging and the hurried driving

Of body, soul and brain.

"But ever in the wake of true achievement

There shines this glowing trail:

Some other soul will be spurred on,

conceiving

New strength and hope, in its own power believing

Because thou didst not fail.

"Not thine alone the glory of the sorrow

To gain or win the goal.

Undreamed of lives in many a fair tomorrow

From thee their weakness or their force shall borrow.

On! On! ambitious soul!"

Take a fresh start in the contest.

The contest is so even today that one full year's subscription, paid in advance, would put many contestants in the lead. The young women are working hard and their friends are rallying to their support royally.

All the districts changed leaders today and the vote all along the line has increased materially.

The contest is of short duration and every day counts. As soon as the contest closes the winners will be announced after the judges have passed on the ballots.

Interest in the contest is keen and the young women who are working hard for the victory are enlisting hosts of friends in the fight for the grand prize trips to Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition.

No Combination Here.

Some candidates fear that there will be a combination between other candidates at the last moment to enable them to win, but that will be impossible, as votes once issued are NOT TRANSFERABLE and are only good for the one to whom it was first issued. Each ballot issued on subscription is marked NOT TRANSFERABLE and the ballot is always filled out before leaving this office. Candidates withdrawing from the contest are not permitted to transfer their votes to any other contestant, therefore when they withdraw the votes issued are dead. All ballots taken from the big ballot box daily are counted and stamped VOTED and kept on file for future reference if need be.

Short Contest

The contest is of short duration and will close some time about the middle of March. The exact date will be decided upon in a few days. This will be the shortest contest the Bulletin has ever conducted and is made short, in order that the work will not become tiresome to the contestants.

Each contestant should commence today to ask their friends for support and tell them to help you now and not stand you off with promises of support; as it will be hard for you to call on them again. Each contestant is furnished with receipt books and those who have not secured a book as yet should call on the Contest Manager and secure one and have your friends pay you their subscription and you bring the money to the office and the ballots will be issued to you in person; don't depend on your friends to come to the office and pay but have them pay you on your first visit, and it will be easier for all concerned to roll up a large vote. Contestants are not limited to the district in which they are entered, but are allowed to secure votes from any other District, County or State.

friends may have all right when they tell you they will vote for you later, but something may happen that they will neglect to come to the office and pay; therefore it is the surest way to secure their subscription, to call on them at once and ask them to pay you in person, and you are then sure of the votes.

How To Vote

Subscribers who depend on the mails to bring their subscriptions to the Bulletin office, must always state whom they want their votes cast for, always mention the contestant's name and whether you want the votes published at once or returned to the contestant. It is best to return all ballots to the contestant and she will then know who is voting for her and can keep track of her friends who have voted, and then will have more time to call on those who have not paid their subscription and in this way she can make a thorough canvass of all her friends, and it will make the work much easier for her. Send your subscription direct to the Contest Department and the votes will be issued for the one you state and they will be returned to the contestant with your name on it, and she can hold the ballots back until the close of the contest, but ballots will not be issued unless the contestant's name appears on same, which makes

MANUEL COSTA SHOOT HIMSELF

Manuel Costa, a Portuguese who for years had been employed as a checker by May & Co., shot himself yesterday afternoon at his home on Quarry street. He left the store at about 3 p. m. and went straight home. He told his wife that he had lost his job, which was not true, and asked her to give him his revolver, as he had sold it to a white man and needed the money. The wife demurred, but Costa threatened to kill her, and she gave him the gun. He then sent her on an errand to her mother's house, and she had hardly stepped outside when she heard a shot, and on re-entering the house, found her husband with a bullet wound in his head. He was still living, but expired before medical assistance could reach him.

Costa leaves a widow and a small child. A coroner's inquest was held last night, but was not completed owing to the fact that Mrs. Costa was unable to be present.
